

Music of the Baroque

Nov. 5-7, 2009

www.cowichanmusicteachers.com

Come join us for the third in our History of Music! This is a workshop series for students of music, and for their teachers as well. This time we explore the Baroque, with lectures, workshops, concerts and a pot luck dinner. Register for one or two classes or get special rates when you choose 3 or more.

Our focus this year is string and keyboard music, with Paul Luchkow and Michael Jarvis headlining the list of great clinicians. more at: www.cowichanmusicteachers.com

The workshop weekend will be held at St. Peter's Quamichan Anglican Church, 5800 Church Rd (off Maple Bay Rd) Duncan.

Please register with your CVMTA music teacher - or email marilyn@harpcanada.com if you don't have one.

The weekend is presented by the Cowichan Music Teachers Association and is supported by the Bursary and Award Fund - thanks to those who contributed to make it affordable for all!

Thursday, Nov. 5

Introduction to the Baroque - 7:30 pm

This evening introduction will feature the talents of the Vancouver Historical Dance Performance groups under the direction of Catherine Lee.

Friday, Nov. 6

Introduction to Baroque Music

9:30 - 11:45 am - Paul Luchkow & friends

The instrumental music of the Baroque, how and why and where it was played, complete with demonstrations of the music and the techniques involved. This is a good intro to the workshops that follow.

Afternoon Instrumental Workshops

1:15 - 3:30 pm - Choose from:

Strings: bring your violin, viola, or cello to this workshop to learn a some Baroque pieces, and practice the how's of playing it with Paul Luchkow.

Keyboards: all participants will have a chance to play one or more of the harpsichords, as well as learn specific techniques for playing Baroque music on modern instruments.

Recorders: Under the leadership of Liz Hamel, explore the Baroque period which was a golden age for recorder consorts of all sizes. Bring yours and learn music which will be available for all levels.

The Baroque Concert - 7 pm

The clinicians and guests join in presenting the exquisite sounds of the Baroque in an amazing concert. All ages welcome.

Sat. Nov. 7

Choral Music of the Baroque

9:30 - 11:45 am - Marvin Regier

Known as a Baroque specialist, Marvin's adjudications and workshops have been eye and ear-opening opportunities for choral singers of all types. Explore the music of one or two famous composers and hear about HOW to sing in a period style.

The Baroque Orchestra 1:15 - 3:30 pm

Here is the opportunity for all string and wind players to play in a Baroque orchestra led by Paul, as we experience the uniqueness and the similarities to a modern orchestra.

Harpichord Masterclass 1:15 - 3:30 pm

Several senior students will work through a Baroque piece with Michael, on a harpsichord. Teachers will select students to play, but all will be welcome to attend.

Baroque Pot Luck Feast and Music - 6 pm

Bring your contribution to a pot luck dinner to celebrate all we've learned and enjoyed. We'll share dinner as we share music, with clinicians and participants providing a suitable accompaniment to our feasting!

Registration Form

Please check the classes you would like to register for and return the form to your teacher with the payment. No music teacher? Email marilyn@harpcanada.com to register. The weekend is meant for students ages 11 and up and their teachers, as well as all lovers of music. All ages welcome at the concert.
